Hi Jenna,

I noticed a couple of typos in the first letter. Please replace with this one?

Ripping up the entire surface to make it a gravel road was a very bad idea as grading it only lasts for a few days at the most, with rain it allows for even more wash outs, I would encourage you try it for yourself.

This tells me that potential ( and in this instance, much delayed ) development holds a far higher priority status than the safety of taxpaying residents.
